- WELCOME -

Well. Here we go again. On our own. Going down the only road we've ever known. Like a twister we were born to walk.... Sorry, broke out into a little White Snake there for a second. But here we go again. This is the 4th East Coast Longhorn Classic. What started out a decade ago as a ranch fun day turned into a small promotional event, then a futurity, and then the idea that we could have a sale as the market grew with the increase in breeders from New England to Florida, from South Carolina to the Mississippi headwaters down to the Pines of the Deep South. We wanted to create a small sale that showcased what these folks were doing. What we have gotten since is tremendous support nationwide. Cattle have sold to Oregon and to Nevada, the Canadian border to the Rio Grande.

This year's Longhorn market has been incredible. Starting with the Legacy, going through to the Texoma, the Cherry Blossom and Blue Ridge, Red's Sale, the Millennium, the HV Sale and hopefully, as we're writing this, the Midwest, the Oregon Sale, the Reno Sale, and the Wisconsin Sale continue that trend. It's such a fun time in the industry and we appreciate everyone's buy in to it. Because without you, we don't do this. Seriously. It's your event to sponsor, consign, and promote, we're just the monkeys behind the curtains doing the work. So we thank you, so very much, for continuing to support this event.

Can we make it a point to point out that YOU DID STEP UP big time. We have an amazing line up coming to you. We hope you find something you like. If you aren't here we'll have Hired Hand Live and we'll do everything in our power to get them to you. If you need anything please don't hesitate to give us a shout.

THE FUTURITY MONEY EARNERS

THE OFFICIAL MONEY EARNERS LIST FOR LONGHORN FUTURITIES

This year of 2021 brings a whole different level to the Futurity world. Our goal is much like the Millennium Futurity's "For the promotion of Longhorns." We want to add another value to these cattle that are quantified. In 2021 we are going to offer five award buckles for five different categories. Multiple futurities have already committed to helping collect this data meaning that their shows will be added to these figures. Any checks won in any of these shows will be represented on the Futurity Money Earners List for both the sire and dam of that money winning animal, as well as the owner of that animal. Special thank you to Molly & Jaymie at Hired Hand for their belief in this concept. Hired Hand has sponsored this year's buckles.

2021 FUTURITY MONEY EARNER AWARD BUCKLES PRESENTED BY HIRED HAND SOFTWARE

- Bull of the Year awarded to the sire whose offspring wins the most money
- Cow of the Year awarded to the dam whose offspring wins the most money
- Exhibitor of the Year awarded to the show contestant that wins the most money
- Producer of the Year awarded to both sire and dam whose offspring wins the most checks of the year

Please contact Beardavidson@gmail.com to add your futurity to the list.

Why the yellow highlights?

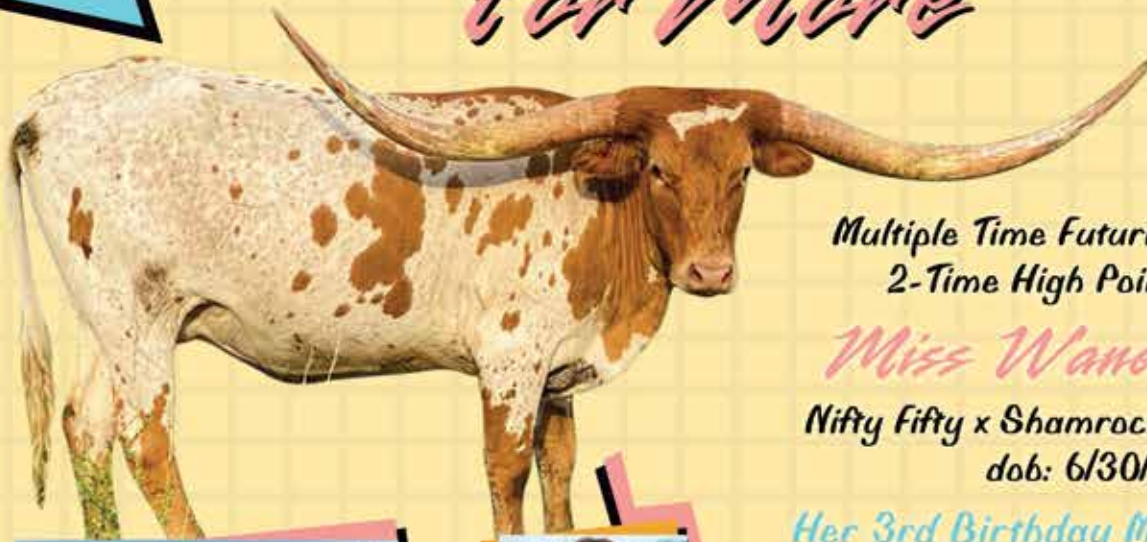

We wanted to be different and create a new feature to your standard sale catalog. Each of the yellow highlighted animals are over 80" TTT. Thanks to Hired Hand, we were able to track down many of these measurements. Although we're well aware that there are many great cows under 80" TTT, we wanted to give some extra promotion to the consignments who pulled from the heart of their herds. Thank you to each and every consignors!

Double A Longhorns

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

My father in law Scott Hughes had Longhorns and they always fascinated me. So I purchased my first longhorn from him in 2003.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

Our most valuable tool in our Longhorn operation is our Kawasaki Mule.

CHRIS & CHRISTINA CLARK

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

I attended the University of Texas where our mascot is a Longhorn so always thought about getting some. I brought some land in 2008 and my neighbor called asked if I'd like to buy some, that's when the addiction started.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

I look for the top individuals in the breed now. When I started in 2009 I just wanted Longhorns. I started over in 2013-2014 with my new herd to strive to breed the best. I enjoy the cows, we have a stressful business, they calm me when I sit and watch them.

LONNIE & RUBY CLINARD

Clinard Longhorns Partnership

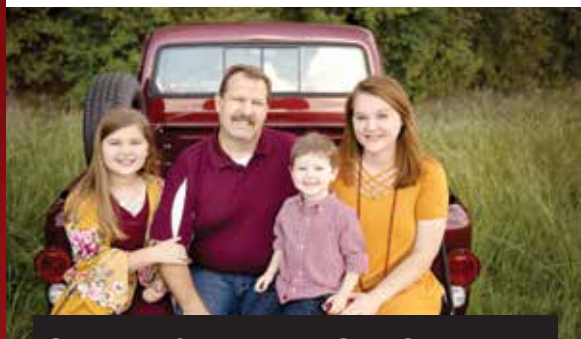

Caldwell, TX & Rockdale, TX | since around 1995

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

We started raising Longhorns in the early 90's to raise roping cattle (ropers) for us to rope as we were involved in team roping and were looking for an alternative to purchasing or leasing ropers. We started with grade longhorns and corriente cattle, but quickly started adding registered longhorns. At that point we sold off everything but registered cattle and started in the Registered Longhorn business. We purchased our first registered stock from a breeder named Gary Scott in Caldwell.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

Our most valuable tool is our honesty and integrity. We love showing our cattle and talking longhorns with anyone, but enjoy helping others get started in the breed. We take pride in having cattle that are docile, preform well in pasture and have great pedigrees. We won't sell anything to another person unless we would sell her to ourselves. We don't keep problem cattle or low performing cattle around in our herd.

GLENN & SHANNON CLINARD

Double C Ranch

Granby, MA | January of 2019

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

We purchased our first registered Texas Longhorn in January of 2019. We had a couple of non-registered Longhorns prior to that.

Our first Longhorns came from a farm in Rhode Island. Guy always wanted longhorns, he and my dad found two on Craigslist and in no time they were added to our pasture which at the time was Angus and Hereford cattle. Our herd has changed drastically over the past couple of years. We said goodbye to the non-registered cattle. In 2018 we met Longhorn breeders on the East Coast and discovered the world of Registered Longhorn Cattle. We haven't looked back since. Choosing this breed was a simple choice for us, the cattle are beautiful, the possibilities are endless, and the people within the longhorn world are second to none. We can't think of a better way to spend our days. We work hard and at the end of the day there is nothing better than looking over your fields at your cattle and taking it all in. Every ounce of energy is worth it.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

He says the tractor, UTV, chute and backhoe. I say him (but I'm not really calling him a tool :-). So to say something besides him I'd say the cordless fence stapler, and the rolling travel carts to organize all of the stuff we need for the days that we run the cows through the chute. We also have to mention the website, camera and social media which keeps us connected while we are so far away from the majority of breeders.

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

In 2009 I traveled PA Route 82 through King Ranch to work and there were these great big longhorn steers with a head of blacks and I thought someday I'll find enough land to buy a few. Now I call it my hobby gone wild.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

My most valuable tool is my squeeze chute.

ROB FENZA

Northbrook Cattle Company

Brandywine Valley, PA | 17 years

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

Before getting into raising cattle, I did a fair amount of research on many breeds. After studying the amazing history and strong health characteristics of the Texas Longhorn, I was convinced that Longhorns were for me. My decision was reinforced after spending time with Bill Davidson and Ben Gravett at G&G Longhorns.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

The network of fellow breeders and friends that are there to support you, answer questions and share their own stories of success and failure, help me maintain a very productive and rewarding breeding and beef production operation.

MARK & MISTY FLINCHUM

M&M Cattle Company

Copper Hill, Virginia | since 1992

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

To start, those cattle are really easy to like. From their beautiful colors to their massive horns, they are easy to work and raise great calves. My start came from an uncle that had just bought a cow calf pair from Gilley's Mountain Ranch and I was hooked at first sight.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

We feel like the friends we have gained by raising Longhorns really isn't a tool but most definitely the most valuable part of raising longhorns to us.

ANN GRAVETT

G&G Longhorns

Rochelle, VA | since the Late 80s

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

Ben and I got in a load of cattle to use on the cutting horses that we owned at the time. In this group of cattle was 1 random longhorn cow. We called her "Lucy Longhorn". When we sold the group of cows to bring in new ones, we held on to Lucy. This brought up conversations with our friend and fellow horseman, Paul Babington. He told us about a gentleman in Maryland that wanted to sell his herd of Longhorns. So Ben and Paul went to see the cattle, purchased the entire herd and split them up between themselves. The bull that came with the herd was Pring. And thus began the longhorn journey!

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

The most valuable tool in my Longhorn operation are my team members. Bear Davidson and Shawn Pequignot are crucial for me to be able to raise and sell cattle and beef. They deal with me and all of my OCD's! I would never be able to do any of this without them.

JOHN & DEBRA HELM

Helm Cattle Company, LLC

Red Oak, Texas | since 2007

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

A gentleman had a small property in Ovilla Texas that he had built around his Texas Longhorns. The property was a real beauty, complete with windmill, pond, pipe rail fencing and the hanging Texas Longhorn Entry sign. I drove by one day and saw that he had listed the property for sale. We were so attracted to the property that we just had to have it and thought a few of the Texas Longhorns on the property would be ideal as well. We knew nothing about selecting the right ones so the kind feller made us a "real deal" on them all. We closed on the property in October of 2007 and very quickly our little herd just about doubled, who knew pregnant cows eventually have babies, lol. We later sold that property and those longhorns but we still have Texas Longhorn Cattle.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

My most valuable has got to be the Kubota MX110 Tractor with Front End Loader.

I was driving down the interstate and saw a herd of beautiful longhorns. I knew I wanted to come home to seeing that every day.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

Social Media and information is the most valuable tool. You can gain so much information and knowledge to determine what works and what doesn't, network, and gain longhorn friendships everywhere!

TODD HENSLEY

Flying H Cattle Company

Telford, TN | since 2010

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

Our Longhorn journey began when my son purchased 2 animals from a friend with whom he rode youth rodeo. At that time, we were raising Angus and also had some horses. That friend's father told me "These Longhorns will get under your skin!" Eleven years later, we have no Angus, no horses, and 50 plus Longhorns. He was right! The beauty and the variety in the breed is unmatched in any other breed.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

This one is easy! It's hands down our P&C Cattle Pen. Thanks Paul Warfield. Our vet commented that my son and I don't yell at each other near as much now!

TERRY & TAMMY KING

TK Longhorns

Westville, FL | since 1992

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

We've been raising Longhorns since 1992. All our bred cattle are named Riverforks. Initially was looking for calving ease, I had purchased some commercial cows that I had problems with and was told longhorns might suit me better. I went to a field day in Marianna, FL where I met Jimmy Jones. That was the beginning of my herd and also a great friend and partner.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

The most valuable tool in my herd and I believe anyone's is knowing your cattle. Spend time just observing and being with them which helps you see potential issues early so you can address them before they become a real problem.

Manning, SC | Since 2013

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

At the time I was living in a double wide in front of my property. My father has a big black cow calf operation and his cowboy at the time was this gentleman from Florida. They were losing calves at one of the farms so this man brings in some Longhorns to keep the coyotes away. Long story short he put these cows in a pasture in front of my house and I enjoyed looking at them. The time came when he was going to sale barn them and I said "Hold hold hold, wait a minute. I'll give you sale barn prices for them." And that's how I got started.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

My ATV! I do everything in it. Check cows, do all my work out of it, it's my best piece of equipment.

DALE METZ & DECARLO NOBEL

FHR Longhorns

Krum, TX | 4 Years

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

In the beginning, I wanted two angus cows for tax purposes; but when I looked at a few up close I just was not impressed. They all looked alike and acted the same- BORING. I happened to read an article on "Best Cows to raise in Texas" a week later and I lied the part that said ease of birth. Once I went into a pasture to look at a few and saw the explosion of color and different personalities, I was sold. A few months later Doc came out to look at the ranch and discuss my goals, he was immediately hooked. That was the beginning of the Dale and Doc business partnership. (Oops! Doc and I have 50 plus cows now!)

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

That is a toss-up. Being in Texas, my air-conditioned gator is important due to the heat; but, honestly, our squeeze chute is the most important tool. It allows me to work cattle when Doc's not available and keeps the operation flowing.

KEN, JESSICA, EMILY, & KENDALL MORRIS

Khaos Cattle Co

Monroe, NC | since 1999

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

In 1999, I traded a rifle scope for her first Texas Longhorn heifer and I was hooked from that point on. I went to a couple shows in South Carolina and acquired several more heifers. I met Ken in 2000 when I rented a pasture from his business partner to put my Longhorns in. We started dating and purchased our first cow from G&G Longhorns at a Tyson Leonard Sale. We were amazed at the sale prices so after the sale, Ken went home and sold most of his beef cows to make room for our future Texas Longhorns.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

We sat down and discussed several tools we felt were important to us. Ken and I agreed that the phone is the most important tool we could have in this industry. It links you to any source you could need. Supplies, knowledge, longhorn breeders, websites, verbal communication, texts, emails, camera, video, Google Maps for traveling, internet, and the list goes on and on. Without it we would be lost in today's society. It's a powerhouse of knowledge, if used correctly.

Kendall feels that "patience" is the most powerful tool. It takes 9 months to get a calf, 2-3 years before that calf has a calf, and then you have to wait for that calf to grow up. So it essentially takes years to see the outcome. Most people believe you get in the business and start producing 90" horn cattle and start profiting immediately. A true breeder has to have patience in order to see the outcome. So many people get discouraged too quickly and give up. It takes time and effort to get to the place you want to be. If you rush through it you will miss the joy of the process and jack things up. If you try to chase the fame you will never catch up. It is a slow process that requires patience and then you will reap the rewards.

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

Kurt Twining and I have known each other and been friends for 25+ years. We had been breeding white tail deer on our ranch, but one day as I visited Kurt's ranch to see his longhorns, I thought, 'they look like a lot more fun than white tails'. Not long after, I bought 6 longhorns from Kurt and we were off and running in the longhorn business.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

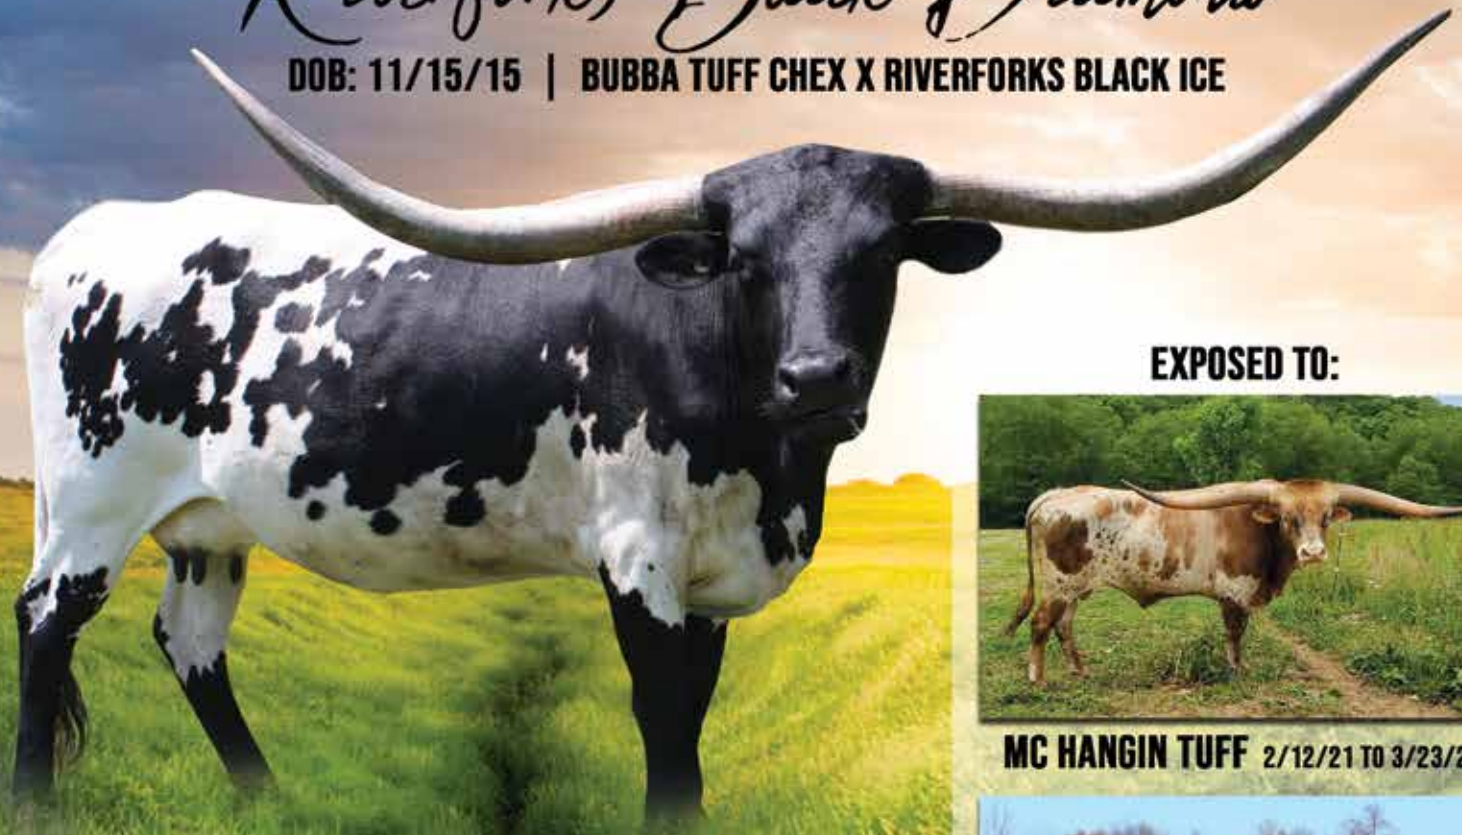

Our most valuable tool in our operation are the friends and relationships that we've made breeding longhorns. Nothing replaces the value of meeting other breeders who have 'been there before' and who have generously offered their advice and suggestions no matter what the issue. We've made the same mistakes that everyone else has, but I feel like we've shortened our learning curve through the good advice we've received along the way.

Bought 19 registered Longhorns 3 years ago

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

Five years ago I moved to a ranch with acres and acres of cut over and grown over land. I bought a small herd of goats and watched them pick away at it s-l-o-w-l-y. Two years later, with very little progress on the clean up. I researched what animal I could buy to help really clear out this land. In my investigation I discovered Longhorns! My determination became to own the most beautiful cattle on earth, Longhorns. I looked at Craigslist and found a herd of 19 registered located less than an hour from me. The folks tried the breeding/raising thing and decided it wasn't for them. Thankfully, they did give me "lessons" on how to put them through a chute and such. So, three years later, I have over 50 amazing Longhorns who are continuing to beautify my property. Watching these beautiful animals bring much peace and joy to my heart.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

My most valuable tool is the people in the Longhorn industry who have very kindly and willingly shared their knowledge and expertise.

JOHN & CHRISTY RANDOLPH

Lonesome Pines Ranch

Smithville, Texas | Since 1992

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

We began raising Longhorns in 1992. Our grandson, Dylan Skarpa, became ranch manager in 2019.

When John's dad passed away, we were faced with the decision of what to do with his cross bred and Longhorn herds. We began watching the longhorn cows and were fascinated by their ability to forage and birth with no complications, but, also, by how gentle they were. John's mom really enjoyed watching the Longhorns, so we decided to sell off the commercial herd and see where the Longhorns would take us. Little did we know how addicting that would become. And here we are; many moons later and still find them fascinating! And addicting!

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

Our squeeze chute! Oh, and our bulls. Oh, yes, and tractors and mules (the mechanical kind).

Rocky Meadow Longhorns

Middletown, PA
unregistered Longhorns since 2010 & registered since 2017

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

We originally bought Longhorns in 2010 as pets and through the years we've grown to love this breed so much that in 2017 we purchased our first registered longhorns and formed Rocky Meadow Longhorns.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

Our most valuable tool by far is our handling facility and chute which provides us the ability to handle our animals safely and calmly as well as utilize AI to maximize and diversify the genetics in our herd.

JOHN & CHRISTINE TALLEY

Talley Longhorns

Boonsboro, MD | since 2014

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

The moment we decided to raise our own Texas Longhorns was when John introduced me to Ben Gravett & G&G Longhorns. I saw G&G's cows and fell in love with the idea of having our own Longhorns. Next, we met Bear and had an in-depth informative tour. We bought our first two longhorn heifers from Bear and decided to call our herd Talley Longhorns. Ann and Bear invited us to the Legacy sale, our first Longhorn Sale. With the thrill of The Legacy Sale and having an introduction to the Longhorn industry, we became obsessed with the idea of breeding great Longhorns. We visited breeders whose programs we admired and started showing in futurities. We have made many dear friends and through our relationships we have realized the absolute joy of being part of the Longhorn family.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

The most important tools we use are our working pen and our Hired Hand Website. Our P&C working pen allows us to work our cows safely and easily. A must for our herd health. Our website allows us to keep our cows organized and advertised. Hired Hand is also how we research information on animals and their production. Extremely useful for making purchases or breeding decisions.

KURT & GLENDA TWINNING

Silver T Ranch

Winnsboro, Texas | 22 years

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

In 1999, a good friend bought four longhorns and asked me to join him on a road trip to go pick them up. I thought they were very interesting and when I would pass them along the country roads, I would remark that someday I would like to own a few. At which time my ex-wife said if you ever buy one of those things I will divorce you...long story short...22 years ago I got divorced and the first thing I did was go buy 100 acres and 8 longhorns...true story....now my lovely wife, Miss Glenda and I own a couple hundred of them and there isn't a day that goes by that we don't discuss something about the longhorns. She loves them as much as I do...

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

The obvious answer is the Joe Chute and we have purchased 3 of them. It's all about the safety as I often work them by myself. The real answer is my eyes....do they look real healthy, does anyone need a little vet work, how is that mamma cow milking, is the mineral feeder full....etc...

MIKE & TRACY YOUNG

Young Ranch

Manchester, MI | 8 years

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

It was very rare to see longhorns in southeast Michigan but there was one longhorn ranch in the area when I was growing up. As a kid I loved when my parents would drive by so I would see all the cool horns. Since then I've always been fascinated by longhorns so I started by own herd 8 years ago.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

I would say physical ability and worth ethic are the most important tools in our program but my wife says "Mike Young" is the most important tool. I don't know if that's a good or bad thing haha.

DAVID, ANGIE, AUGGIE
& ARCHIE WULF

4 Oaks Farm

McLean, IL

Tell us the moment when, where, and why you chose Longhorns?

David (Auggie's Dad), Angie (Smith), Auggie & Archie Wulf | McLean, IL

We bought our first Longhorn 10 years ago this Christmas but didn't get into breeding/buying pedigrees and showing until 5 years ago.

This is our very most favorite story to tell. David's Dad, "Bumpy", had this almost obsession with Texas Longhorns. He had first seen them going for one of his and Mary Jo's (David's Mom) famous car dies when they were visiting their daughter, Katie, in Kansas. After we moved to our 1.5 un-cared for acres in 2007, he played a huge roll in coming out and mowing and helping us get everything looking perfect. When he suggested that we buy a longhorn to help us eat all the grass, Angie laughed in his face. Really? Cows?? Much worse, cows with horns?? He did SO much research and learned and learned so much in a short amount of time. It became well-known in the family that he loved these longhorns and thought they were the coolest. There were even longhorn plastic animal figures you can get from the farm supply store in the nativity scene at Christmas! He spent a lot of time talking with Charlene Semkin. She really helped educate him on a lot of stuff about the breed and benefits of raising Longhorns, in general. She also sent him one of her DVDs of pictures of all of the calves she had born and for sale that year which he made sure Angie got to see. Totally got her.

She drew his name in the family gift exchange, Christmas 2011. She decided she was buying a longhorn for Bumpy although it was "slightly" outside of the allotted budget. Bumpy had had a rough year health wise and even though the barn was not complete, with only half a roof on it and no pasture only a round pen sitting out in the middle of the pasture, it just felt right. After doing some web searching, we found our way back to Charlene. With what we were looking for in pedigree (Bumpy loved The Shadow) and our budget, she gave us 3 of them to pick from. Angie just picked the cutest one.

David and his sister spent December 23rd and 24th driving to Oklahoma and back. It was Angie's job to lie and make up a certificate of ownership with some trinkets to wrap! Bumpy was so excited and spent Christmas Eve in the half finished barn just staring at Charlotte.

He passed away that following March. We feel like he still has a presence in what we are doing today. Charlotte will live all her days at our farm. We also lost David's Mom this past spring. We know they are taking lots of their famous car rides all over our family and just all around our everyday lives. We also inherited the plastic longhorn figurines and, you betcha, they will be in the nativity scene for many years to come.

What's your most valuable tool in your Longhorn operation?

David (HAHAHA). No, seriously, David. Harder working I've ever known in my life- Angie.

LOT 26

DOB: 10/24/13

PH#: 309

Breeding: Exposed to Jammin Tex from 9/5/20 to 1/2/21.

Comments: This cow is a great representation of the legendary breeding of Nancy Carter Dunn. We gave lots of thought about bringing a very special cow to this sale as a way to open new opportunities for our program with the great East Coast breeders. We hope that this powerful cow becomes a cornerstone of a great new program!

Concealed Weapon daughters are very sought after as displayed at the 2021 Hudson Valentine Auction. Over a $30,000 plus average. If you don't have CW in your herd, here is your chance.

The dam goes all the way back to the legendary Royal Reputation cow. Those of you who are new to the industry, these are outstanding genetics on both Top and Bottom pedigrees to build a program upon.

She will have a Jammin Tex calf at side. This is an off the charts pedigreed bull with calves now coming out with tons of color and brindle! A powerful cross, with the expectation of exposing her back to REBEL HR from August 1st to the sale! Thanks to the East Coast Classic for having us onboard!
